

Article 21. Support Mechanism for Socially Vulnerable Students

1. The following types of benefits are applicable to tuition fees at the University:

A) An individual schedule of tuition fees, which may be determined by the student upon the request of the Dean of the Faculty, in agreement with the Head of Administration;

B) exemption from tuition fees for one semester, which may be set by a student who meets three of the following conditions:

- is an orphan;
- Her family is registered in the database of socially vulnerable;
- for the protection of the territorial integrity of the children / families of persons:
- In case of persons living in the occupied territories:
- The student is ill and treatment is associated with high financial costs;
- is from a large family (at least three members of the family are minors);
- Actively participates in events outside the University on behalf of the University.

Article 22. Student Encouragement Mechanisms

1. In order to support the scientific-research activity of the students of the LEPL Samtskhe-Javakheti State University, the university partially or fully funds the attendance (conference) of the university student in a foreign country at a conference / seminar / congress. The student's application for participation in such an event shall be reviewed by the relevant Faculty Board.

2. The Head of Administration shall issue a relevant order if the student funding for the semester does not exceed one semester in the previous semester.

Student funding should not exceed GEL 1000 (thousand).